Write English words and sentences from right to left using Arabic letters. Preserve English meaning and word order. These are the current working conventions; some sounds share a spelling, and context helps identify the word.

Consonants

| English sound | Letter  |
|---------------|---------|
| b or p        | ب       |
| d             | د       |
| f or v        | ف       |
| hard g        | غ       |
| h             | ه       |
| j (judge)     | ج       |
| k, l, m, n    | ك ل م ن |
| r, s, t, z    | ر س ت ز |
| w, y          | و ي     |
| sh (she)      | ش       |
| ch (change)   | ش       |
| th (this)     | ذ       |
| th (think)    | ث       |
| ng (sing)     | نغ      |
| zh (measure)  | ز       |

The assigned English sound can differ from the letter's usual Arabic sound. Use Arabic letters only; no Persian additions. Earlier specimens also used jeem for hard g and ba for v.

Vowels and marks

| Cue       | Form  | Example            |
|-----------|-------|--------------------|
| short a   | اَ    | بَاتَ (but)        |
| short i/e | يَ    | ذِينَ (this)       |
| short u   | وُ    | بُوكَ (book)       |
| ee        | يِي   | شِي (she)          |
| oo        | وُو   | مُونَ (moon)       |
| ay        | يَيَ  | دَيَ (day)         |
| ai        | بَايَ | تَايْتِ (night)    |
| ow        | بَاوُ | فَلَاوَرُ (flower) |
| oy        | بُوِي | فُونِسَ (voice)    |

Place a short vowel mark on the preceding consonant. Sukoon ْ means no following vowel; the consonant is still pronounced. Long vowel letters normally take no sukoon; glides may take it.

Initial vowels use اَ, اُ, or اِ.

Words to recognise

| English | Spelling |
|---------|----------|
| book    | بُوكَ    |
| look    | لُوكَ    |
| good    | عُودَ    |
| food    | فُودَ    |
| moon    | مُونَ    |
| foot    | فُوتَ    |
| wood    | وُودَ    |
| green   | عَرِينَ  |
| sleep   | سَلِيْبَ |
| night   | تَايْتِ  |
| voice   | فُونِسَ  |
| change  | نَسِيْبَ |

Spelling memory

Book retains waw because its English spelling has oo. The current draft extends this to look, good, foot and wood. These spellings do not distinguish all English vowel qualities. Unstressed vowels can also reflect English spelling.

Read a sentence

ذَا بُوكَ إِزْ رِيْتِ إِنْ إِنْغِلِشَ.

The book is written in English.

Start with marked words and their English equivalents, then cover the English and read a short passage. Marks may be reduced as recognition develops. This sheet shows working spellings, not a lossless transcription or a keyboard layout.
